JAPANESE PLANE MAY FLY TO VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25.—Vancouver may be the terminus of the world's longest nonstop flight—from Tokyo across 4,200 miles of the North Pacific—which will be attempted next year by pilots of the Imperial Aeronautical Association of Japan.

This was the possibility advanced by Y. T. Miawa, air attaché to the Japanese Embassy at Washington, who is in Vancouver today investigating the airport facilities here. He arrived this morning from Seattle, where he visited the municipal and governmental airports. "If airport facilities in Vancouver are as good as those in Seattle," he said, "there is an excellent chance that the transpacific flyers may make this city the terminus of the flight."

LIQUID FUEL FROM COAL IS CONSIDERED

Low-Temperature Carbonization of Various Grades of Coal Suggest Production on Large Scale

THREE PROCESSES ARE EXAMINED

Prof. R. H. Clark, of University of B.C., Speaks on Subject to Canadian Institute of Mining

OWING to the importance of scientific research to the coal industry of Vancouver Island, and the hope that the chemist will solve the problems which will render the production of coal more profitable in the field of industry in the face of modern competition from other fuels, the Colonist is publishing the paper of Dr. Robert H. Clark, Professor of Chemistry at the University of British Columbia, given yesterday afternoon in Nanaimo to the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy on "The Production of Liquid Fuels From Coal."

During the last twenty years science and industry have been strenuously endeavoring to discover new sources and new kinds of liquid fuels and to work out suitable chemical methods for their production. One of the new possibilities for the production of liquid fuel on a large scale is low-temperature carbonization of various grades of coal. The use of alcohol as motor spirit, in spite of its relatively low calorific value, is being widely investigated. Its production by fermentation of sugars, its recovery from the sulphite liquors of the paper industry, its production directly from wood and also from calcium carbide, have all been considered. At present the most promising line of investigation would appear to be the further development of those technical processes which yield liquid fuels from coal, since science has shown the possibility of separating all kinds of liquid fuels and even the complete conversion of coal into oils.

THREE PROCESSES

The present paper will consider briefly:

1. The production of primary tar by low temperature carbonization of coal.
2. The hydrogenation of coal.
3. The synthetic processes of Dr. Franz Fischer.

Low temperature carbonization means the subjection of coal or other carbonaceous material to destructive distillation in a manner different from the existing high temperature carbonization processes of the gas works and coke ovens, so as to extract the maximum amount of valuable by-products and to deliver either solid smokeless fuel, or liquid fuel in a condition more suitable for general use than raw coal of the corresponding high temperature products.

The problem of low-temperature carbonization is probably more important to the people of Great Britain than to those of almost any other country. They have no petroleum, and are almost unique in using open household fires exclusively, with consequent enormous damage from smoke. They have the natural advantage of large deposits of good bituminous coal and low freight rates. The enormous growth of the use of water power on the continent has diminished the demand for British coal to an extent estimated at sixty million tons per annum, giving thereby an added impetus to the British mining industries to adopt new scientific methods for the treatment of coal and thereby convert the industry into a paying proposition again.

OILS PRODUCED

Early investigations made by the gas industries of Great Britain and other countries showed that as soon as the temperature of carbonization was raised in the retorts cracking took place and the low temperature oils resulted. The low temperature oils are essentially paraffinoid in character; the high temperature oils, on the other hand, were largely benzenoid, and contained a much greater percentage of naphthalene and anthracene.

ained a much greater percentage of naphthalene and anthracene than Wheeler in England found that vacuum distillation of coal, with consequent lower temperature, produced a petroleum-like oil. Vacuum distillation will hardly be used commercially, however, on account of the cumbersome apparatus required, and because the same product practically can now be obtained by more suitable means.

Early laboratory experiments on the carbonization of coal, peat, oil shale, have shown that it is necessary to reach the decomposition temperature 400-500 degrees, of all the constituents capable of forming oils. For oil production it is advantageous not to raise the temperature beyond that absolutely required, and even to cool the vapors as rapidly as possible below 300 degrees, since prolonged heating leads to the decomposition of valuable oil constituents with formation of gas.

The distillation of coal at the lowest possible temperature, with a maximum of 450-500 degrees, leaves a coke containing practically all the nitrogen of the coal and about ten per cent volatile matter. The tar and gas differ considerably from the corresponding high-temperature products. The tar oil is formed in much greater quantity and does not contain aromatic hydrocarbons, such as benzene, toluene and naphthalene, but does contain large quantities of phenols, which in the case of some kinds of coal, amounts to fifty per cent of the oil.

OIL FROM BITUMINOUS COAL

A good gas coal yields about ten per cent of primary tar oil, the percentage composition of such an oil varies greatly with the kind of coal used, the approximate composition of a typical oil from bituminous coal was as follows:

Ten per cent benzene, boiling below 200 degrees; 12.5 per cent non-volatile oils, boiling below 300 degrees; 15 per cent viscous oils; 35 per cent phenols; 10 per cent neutral resins; 10 per cent acid resins; 1.5 per cent paraffin wax; 1 per cent bases.

Broche has shown that the maximum tar yield could be obtained with a temperature as low as 430 degrees, although the time required was ten times longer than at 500 degrees. The oil obtained at 430 degrees would not necessarily be better than that at 500 degrees owing to the protracted heating. Most of the constituents of primary tar have not yet been identified. The many investigations of high temperature types of retorts report widely varying results; saturated hydrocarbons appear to make up ten per cent of the total fraction, and unsaturated cyclic hydrocarbons and small amounts of unnumbered other families are present. Of the phenols, cresols predominate in very small proportion, the cresols and xylenols amount to one or two per cent of the total primary tar.

The aqueous layer, residual acid, since ammonia only appears at a temperature of 600-700 degrees, and a mixture of methyl alcohol and acetone are present.

CARBONIZATION GAS

The yield of gas amounts with most coals to from 50-80 cu. m. per ton, which is about a quarter to one-third of the yield of high temperature gas. The low-temperature gas has a very high calorific value—between 8,000 and 9,000 calories. The gas is considerably different from that of ordinary coal gas, as is shown in the following statement:

Composition	Primary Ordinary	Gas	% Gas
Carbon dioxide	1 to 7	2.0
Olefines	3 to 5	3.75
Carbon monoxide	1 to 6	9.0
Hydrogen	1 to 22	22.5
Marsh Gas	55 to 70	31.0
Nitrogen	3 to 4	2.25
Hydrogen Sulphide	4 to 5	0.75

SEMI-COKE

Bituminous coal, brown coal, peat, leave on low temperature distillation a semi-coke, a kind of smokeless fuel containing from 10 to 15 per cent of volatile matter. It is very porous and friable and is consequently liable to spontaneous ignition even at low temperature. Various means have been adopted for increasing the density of the coke, such as screw compression and heavy iron rollers placed inside revolving drum retorts, whereby the density has been increased from 0.8 to 0.9. Such compressed semi-coke provides a dense smokeless fuel, quite fit for shipping. The production of a compressed semi-coke is not directly possible with all coals, but can usually be obtained by blending non-caking coal and coking coals. The semi-coke and friable coal, when carbonized of bituminous coal is an endothermic process; its carbonization therefore requires a continuous supply of external heat. Wood, brown coal, lignite on the other hand show a positive heat of carbonization, and progresses spontaneously. The latter is the case with all fuels containing a twelve per cent oxygen content or higher.

Primary tar production is still in a state of development; it is a raw material, the working up of the oil obtained is receiving much attention.

UTILISATION OF PRIMARY TAR

Crude primary tar has a high calorific value and could be used as fuel, for example in large industrial combustion engines of the Diesel type. The tar will in time doubtless be too valuable for such a purpose.

The viscous oils when properly freed of paraffin wax and distilled at low temperatures in order to avoid decomposition, have been shown to be good lubricating oils. These oils have been put on the market in Germany, they are not the equal of the corresponding petroleum products but have already rendered the imports of lubricants into Germany by a considerable extent. The oils are improved by hydrogenation.

Primary tar contains from thirty-five to fifty per cent phenols, depending on the nature of the coal used. These phenols are readily separated from the other constituents. Phenolic oils corrode some metals; aluminum, silicon-iron, and some steels are not attacked, iron and nickel are very resistant. Part of the corrosion is doubtless due to sulphur compounds.

The phenols might be condensed with formaldehyde to resins similar to bakelite. They can also be converted into useful fuels by reduction with hydrogen from water gas or producer gas either to cyclo-hexanols, or with the formation of oxygen with formation of homologous compounds. The use of catalysts for hydrogenation would require the oils to be previously free of sulphur compounds. Many methods have been investi-

Famous Drum Is Returned

THE famous drum of the 2nd Battalion of the Princess Louise's Argyl and Sutherland Highlanders, which was lost at Le Cateau during the retreat from Mons in 1914, has been returned to the regimental depot at Stirling Castle by Herr F. F. Effe, of Hamburg. His generous action is the outcome of the appeal made to him by the British film, "Mons," in which the loss of the drum plays a conspicuous part. The drum was found by a German soldier, who was a drummer with the famous war drum on which the Regiment's battle honors since 1806. It will probably never be used on parade again.

ated for breaking down the constituents of high molecular weight to compounds of lower molecular weight as is done in the petroleum industry. Bergius has brought to a stage of high technical perfection the process of converting coal into a large experimental plant at Rheinlan, near Mannheim. A method of cracking the high boiling constituents and simultaneously hydrogenating the products under high pressure at 400 degrees. By this process an almost complete splitting up of heavy oils into benzines has been reported. It is said that even the tar is converted into a fairly thin fluid by this process. The Bergius process has also been used in a similar manner for cracking petroleum products. The phenols in this process appear to be converted into hydro-aromatic alcohols. A more complete hydrogenation of the constituents of primary tar would be possible at temperatures below 400 degrees, the velocity of reaction is too slow, however, at lower temperatures unless catalysts could be utilized.

The gases from low temperature carbonization contain considerable benzene which can best be recovered by activated charcoal. Low temperature destructive distillation gives the most primary kind of tar in which the constituents have suffered the least by decomposition; it represents raw material which new methods will work up into many valuable products. Dr. Franz Fischer has shown that the residue of carbonization can be converted into synthetic alcohol, a process which is made from the semi-coke may subsequently be transformed into a motor fuel by a contact process on the lines of Haber's ammonia synthesis, leaving behind nothing but the mineral constituents of coal.

HYDROGENATION OF COAL

Nearly sixty years ago Berthelot partially succeeded in converting charcoal, wood and coal into many valuable products. Dr. Franz Fischer has shown that the residue of carbonization can be converted into synthetic alcohol, a process which is made from the semi-coke may subsequently be transformed into a motor fuel by a contact process on the lines of Haber's ammonia synthesis, leaving behind nothing but the mineral constituents of coal.

The Badische Anilin and Soda Fabrik in 1913 obtained patents for the production of liquid hydrocarbons and their derivatives by subjection of carbon monoxide and hydrogen to a contact process under pressure.

Dr. Fischer, after years of experimenting, to find the most suitable conditions for the production of liquid hydrocarbons from carbon monoxide and hydrogen, considers a temperature of 410 degrees, at a pressure of 150 atmospheres, using a catalyst formed by calcining iron turnings with potassium hydride, the most suitable. The product thus obtained contained hardly any hydrocarbons, but was made up approximately as follows: 10 per cent lower saturated alcohols, aldehydes and ketones, 11 per cent oil partly miscible with water, and 48 per cent oil volatile in steam consisting of somewhat higher aldehydes, ketones, alcohols, esters and hydrocarbons.

The product, which Fischer calls "synthol," represents an exceedingly complex mixture of diverse aliphatic compounds. Road tests were made with synthol to test its suitability as a motor fuel. For this purpose the crude oil separated from the aqueous layer was freed of acid and fractionated up to 200 degrees when 87 per cent of the distillate was obtained. The tests, with synthol, Fischer reports, compared favorably with benzene.

"SYNTHOL"

When synthol, freed from its constituents boiling below 99 degrees, was heated under pressure in an autoclave at 430 degrees, the bulk of the alcohols, aldehydes and ketones, making up the synthol, were, according to Fischer, converted into a product in which hydrocarbons predominated. Fischer has given a number of possible explanations for the reactions that take place—for example, the alcohols probably split off water to form corresponding olefines, when they unite under the influence of pressure to form naphthalene hydrocarbons. Synthol thus transformed into a petroleum like oil, containing little or no oxygen compounds, Fischer calls "Synthol."

The Fischer process is an outgrowth of the successful process for the manufacture of methyl alcohol from water gas. The working scheme he suggests is: Coal, semi-coke, primary tar, primary benzene and gas; from the semi-coke, water gas, ammonia and hydrogen sulphide; from the water gas, synthol and synthol.

Fischer's process has not yet been reduced to a commercial scale.

B.C. LEGISLATURE

Power to enforce certain new features in the city's Superannuation By-Law which are not contained in the Provincial Government Superannuation Act, will be sought at the next session of the Legislature by the city, providing that the civic employees join in its request.

The civic service committee, which brought in the report, recommended that the Legislature be approached by the Council at the next session, but it was thought advisable to lay the matter over until the opinion of the employees had been obtained so that the employees, with the city, could make the request.

The recommendation of the civic service committee is as follows:

"Be it resolved by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria that application be made to the Provincial Legislature at its next session by the city solicitor, with the assistance of the Mayor and aldermen of the Council, for legislation enacting that upon the passing of a Superannuation By-Law, pursuant to the Municipal Act, the following provisions shall have full force and effect, namely:

"1. The provisions outlined in subsection 2 of section 16 of the Superannuation Act shall apply to any superannuation allowance granted under such by-law, to the effect that no superannuation allowance may be assigned, charged or attached by process in any court.

"2. The superannuation allowance may be granted under such by-law in accordance with the prescribed tables of any of the following plans, as outlined in section 15 of the Superannuation Act, namely:

"(a) Single life, payable for the life of the contributor;

"(b) Guaranteed allowance, payable for the life of the contributor, or for a term of years certain, whichever period shall be the longer;

"(c) Joint life and last survivor, payable during the joint life of the contributor and any person nominated by him prior to the granting of the superannuation allowance; and during the life of the survivor.

"3. No superannuation by-law passed by a municipal council under the provisions of the Municipal Act shall be amended or repealed without the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council."

C.N.R. Marketings

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 25.—Increases in millions of bushels over the marketings and loadings of last year are indicated by the Canadian National Railways grain movement report for the week of November 16 to 24, inclusive. During the past week, 11,703,000 bushels were marketed along Canadian National lines, as compared with 9,534,000 in the corresponding week last year. Cars loaded numbered 7,328, as against 5,834, which, in bushels, is 9,755,000 and 7,703,000. Grain in bushels marketed in Manitoba totaled 5,247,000 loaded and 13,814,000 in storage. Alberta's marketing is 3,331,000 bushels marketed, 2,879,000 loaded and 10,183,000 in storage. Bushels marketed in Manitoba totaled 1,797,000, while 1,528,000 bushels were loaded and 2,947,000 were in storage. As an indication of the movement of grain westward, it is shown that 4,441 cars arrived at Vancouver between August 1 and November 23. This week's marketings are at least a million bushels better than last.

SUMMER VISITOR DIES IN CHICAGO

Mr. Arthur Erasmus Lane Succumbs on American Thanksgiving Day, Following Seizure

Very suddenly, as the result of a seizure, the death occurred at Chicago on Thursday of Mr. Arthur Erasmus Lane, who left Victoria in September last after spending the Summer in the city.

A regular visitor here for the past eight or ten years, Mr. Lane, as well as his wife and his daughter, Miss Margaret Lane, was well known and affectionately esteemed by a large circle of friends in the city. To these the news of his death comes with a sense of very real regret, and the sincere sympathy of the community will be extended to the family. Each Summer Mr. and Mrs. Lane and their daughter spent several months in Victoria, always making their residence at the Empress Hotel, where they entertained in generous fashion. Mr. Lane was a frequent player over the Victoria Golf Club links at Oak Bay, this being one of his favorite recreations while he was here. This year, instead of returning direct to Chicago from Victoria, he accompanied his wife and daughter on a pleasure trip to California, and they reached Chicago only a week or two before his death occurred.

Mr. Lane was for many years one of the partners in the Chicago bindery firm of Lane Brothers & Lane, his retirement taking place about a year ago.

FUR SALES BOARD HERE IS PLANNED

Mr. H. W. Yewdall, of the Winnipeg Fur Auction Sales, Addresses Meeting on Subject

"I was agreeably surprised on coming to the Coast to find that Vancouver island silver foxes were equal to any that I have seen in Canada or the United States," said Mr. H. W. Yewdall, manager of the Winnipeg fur auction sales, in addressing a meeting of those interested in the fur industry at the Y.M.C.A. last evening. Among those present were a number of fur farmers of the Island and neighboring islands, and several from Tacoma and Vancouver.

Mr. Yewdall gave a resume of his experiences during twenty-five years in the fur business, and in speaking of present conditions said that fox pelts during the Winter would fetch prices well in excess of the last two years' sales. He assured Island breeders that they had nothing to fear for the future as long as they continued to produce and market pelts of the present high quality, which so far have been insufficient in number to fill orders. "Genuine silver fox pelts will always be in demand," he said, "and half black and half silver pelts are at present selling extremely well, with cross fox pelts a close third."

On the suggestion of Messrs. D. McDonald and W. Miller Higgs, Mr. Yewdall discussed at length the establishment of a fur sales board in the province with a suboffice in Victoria to handle some of the $2,000,000 worth of pelts sold annually by the Winnipeg company. He guaranteed members of the Vancouver Island Fox Breeders' Association an advance seventy-five per cent on their marketable pelts, for a commission of three per cent, with a credit of half that amount to the association, and it is highly probable that the planned fur sales board will be established here soon, his suggestions meeting with full favor from the association.

HON. S. F. TOLMIE ON POLICY OF PARTIES

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 25.—"I want to see a reduction of the interest on farm loans, bringing them to the rate which prevailed when the Conservative Government was in power," said Hon. S. F. Tolmie, addressing a well-attended meeting of Conservatives here tonight.

Referring to a statement of Hon. T. D. Pattullo, who had, he said, expressed pride in the record of the Provincial Government, the speaker declared taxation had increased. There had been, he said, a long record of excess of cost over original estimates.

Other speakers included Dr. L. E. Borden, of Nelson.

MAYOR GIVES ACCOUNT OF STEWARDSHIP

Public Meeting at Chamber of Commerce Hears of Reduction in Assessments and Tax Rate

CITY BONDS IN GOOD STANDING

By-Laws Providing for Establishment of Industries Here Noted in General Survey

What had been accomplished by the city during the three years of his stewardship in connection with betterment of the city's financial condition and the lowering of taxes, was stressed in Mayor J. Carl Pendray's report of his administration to a public meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night. Mr. George MacGregor presided as chairman.

Not many years ago the city was in a bad financial condition. "There was talk of the city going into the receiver's hands. The debt was so colossal that businessmen of this city wondered how Victoria would get out from under," the Mayor declared at the outset.

"What has happened since then? Do you hear any talk of a receiver? Our bonds, which were a drug on the market, are now selling at a premium. In 1922 we adopted a policy of 'pay as you go,' and we have rigidly stuck to this policy."

In order to let citizens know that they have been given a genuine reduction in taxes, and not a reduction of the rate and an increase in assessment, I have prepared some figures.

"In 1924 the general tax levy was $1,722,751. This was reduced in 1925 to $1,674,765, and in 1926 to $1,622,725. In 1927 a further reduction in the levy was made to $1,499,274. That proves conclusively that the taxpayers of Victoria are paying less year by year."

"Not only has reduction in taxation been made, but the city's collections have improved until this year a post-war record was set. In 1924 the tax collections amounted to $4,022 per cent of the current taxes due. The percentage was increased to 1925 to 86.2 per cent, and in 1926 to 88.1 per cent. The city comptroller told me today that there was no doubt whatever that the collections this year would be ninety per cent."

CITY DEBT REDUCED

"Every effort is being made to improve conditions in Victoria and lessen the tax burden upon the people," the Mayor went on to say as he explained how the city debt was being reduced.

"If the present policy is continued, the reduction in debt charges over the next ten years will total $1,813,000 per annum, and the following ten years over $500,000 per annum."

Mayor Pendray then went on to explain what had been done to equalize the assessment in the city, particularly in those areas where property had depreciated, and then came back to the tax question. He said that the council could have cut taxes even more than it did last year if it had let public service deteriorate, but it had not felt disposed to pass the burden on to some future council. In spite of keeping the city service in first-class condition, the council of this year reduced the mill rate from 39.40 mills to 38 mills.

The Mayor gave figures to show what it had cost the city to keep the service in first-class condition. The total came to $400,000. A sum of $85,304 had been spent on new water mains, high pressure system, etc.; $19,271 on new sidewalks, $45,673 on new sewers and drains, and $90,000 for miscellaneous expenditures.

Mayor Pendray heartily endorsed the policy of the city lands department, of which Alderman Dewar was head, and commended Alderman Dewar for the manner in which Victoria was selling its reverted lands.

The water rates of the city had been readjusted to meet taxpayers to the extent of $12,000 in the last five months. Over forty-one per cent of the consumers were paying less than the former minimum of $1.50 per month, while industrial rates were reduced to $1.50 per month. The water rates of the city had been readjusted to meet taxpayers to the extent of $12,000 in the last five months. Over forty-one per cent of the consumers were paying less than the former minimum of $1.50 per month, while industrial Motor Cars Increase—Nearly 75,000 motor vehicles are in operation in the province now as compared with 67,000 last year. It was revealed in figures for the first ten months of 1927 issued yesterday by the Provincial Police. Registrations during November and December will bring the total well over the 75,000 mark. It is expected. Ten years ago the total of registrations up to the end of October was 11,639. Trade in used cars has been heavy this year. 25,884 transfers of motor vehicles having been registered during the first ten months of the year.

NO REDUCTION TO BE MADE THIS YEAR IN ORIENTAL LICENCES

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 25.—Oriental fishing licences, which have been cancelled at the rate of 10 per cent a year for the past four years, will not be reduced for the 1928 season, Major J. A. Motherwell, Chief Inspector here of the Federal Department of Fisheries, announced tonight.

The decision of the department is made pending settlement of several legal questions affecting the Dominion's constitutional rights in licensing fishing, which are to come before the Supreme Court of Canada in February, Major Motherwell said.

Tomorrow, Fraser River fishermen will meet W. A. Pound, director general of fisheries, Ottawa, and lay before him their suggestions for protection of the salmon industry.

POLISH-LITHUANIAN SITUATION SERIOUS

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The Vossische Zeitung's correspondent at Kovno reports that the position of Premier Waldemars of Lithuania as precarious, since he is uncertain of the loyalty of a large number of military officers. It is rumored that very influential leaders of the Lithuanian general staff, who were responsible for last year's resistance, are ready to overthrow the dictator.

Lithuanian politicians who fled from Riga to Vilna are reported to be preparing with Polish assistance a new coup d'état. Their leader is said to be a former deputy named Pletskaitis, who is alleged to be negotiating with the Poles to march on Kovno.

THRESHING RESUMED

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 25.—Two days of mild weather have given a new lease of life to harvesting operations in Saskatchewan, given by the fact that farmers in that province on Canadian Pacific lines were able to haul to the elevators yesterday 1,141,113 bushels of grain.

Total marketing on the lines of the C.P.R. were 2,109,954 bushels. In spite of the loading of 1,556 cars storage elevators in the province are 26,803,214 bushels. So the work of harvesting the great grain crop goes merrily on, with promises of fine weather, and the chance of a further reduction in the amount of stocked grain.

Vancouver's elevators report little change, the grain coming and going with little difference. Storage yesterday was 5,414,588 bushels, with 204,667 bushels moved by boat, Calgary reporting ninety-five cars of grain moved west.

Report Says Deputy Alleged Poisoning

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—Dispatches from Budapest say that a sensation was caused in the National Assembly when Carol Husar, Vice-President of the House of Deputies, declared that King Charles of Rumania did not die of a natural death in October, 1914, but was poisoned by the war party.

Husar charged that the royal cook had been bribed to mix poison in the King's coffee. He said the King's widow, Carmen Sylva, later wrote to Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary, giving details of his death.

MONGOLIA NOW ALL BOLSHEVİK

General Sutton Speaks on China at Ottawa—To Get Food is Main Aim of the Population

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—"The whole of Mongolia is now in the hands of the Bolsheviks, and they are sending hundreds of agents supplied with unlimited funds into Southern China with the idea of raising hatred against Great Britain," General F. A. Sutton told the Ottawa branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada. He declared that he had seen orders from the Moscow Government "directly advocating wholesale murder to stir up anti-British feeling."

According to General Sutton, ninety-nine per cent of the people of China were hopelessly poverty stricken. The urgent necessity of getting something to eat was the main consideration of the bulk of the people.

General Sutton thought the main source of trouble in China, as in Britain's lack of a strong policy. To a great degree, the fact that practically the whole of Southern China was now Bolshevik came as a result of this policy.

First reports of the success of the Y.M.C.A. canvassing teams who are out to raise $20,000 were given at the noon luncheon held yesterday when it was revealed that close to $3,500 had been collected in approximately three hours.

Results showed that $270 was pledged by eleven people to be paid in four instalments during 1928. It was further stated that $3,000 had been subscribed by twelve people to bring the total for the morning's work to $3,270. This was considered excellent work by those in charge of the drive.

The campaign will be held at the Y.M.C.A. at noon on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, when team captains will make their reports.

Itinerant Priests

NELSON, Nov. 25.—The executive of the Diocese of Kootenay meeting here decided on account of expense to omit the 1928 annual synod.

Provision was made for two itinerant priests, one of whom will travel up and down the Crow's Nest Pass visiting small settlements having no settled pastors. It was stated seven would be needed to fully meet the needs of the diocese.

When a man rises in the morning, says a psychologist, he should get down to brass tacks. Inland revenue officials, on the other hand, get up to tax brass.

ARTISTS HEARD AT CHURCH RECITAL

Mrs. Georgina Watt, Contralto, and Miss Dorothy Morton, Pianist, Please Big Audience

Acoustically, Fairfield United Church offers one of the best auditoriums in the city, and the audience which filled it last evening on the occasion of the recital by Mrs. Georgina Watt, contralto, assisted by Miss Dorothy Morton, pianist, listened to the delightful programme under the most favorable conditions possible. Both artists were enthusiastically and frequently applauded, each receiving during the evening a number of bouquets and baskets of flowers, which added to the beauty of the stage. Mrs. M. P. Matthews filled the role of accompanist with much artistry, and was called to the platform with the vocalist and pianist at the close of the programme to receive a share of the plaudits.

Mrs. Watt's full-toned, warm contralto has the charm of easy and natural production, and a quality of sincerity and sympathy make it peculiarly well adapted to the singing of the devotional and semi-devotional class of songs: Schubert's "To Music," Pergolesi's "O Lord Have Mercy," Elgar's "Land of Hope and Glory," Sullivan's "St. Agnes' Eve," Goring Thomas' dramatically dignified recitative and aria, "My Heart Is Weary," in all of which she especially distinguished herself. Clear diction is another of her virtues, and where it merely assisted the pleasing effect of the more legato numbers, it was indispensable to the singing of such things as Gounod's "Flower Song" and "Now's the Time to Love," both of which were happily expressive and light. Other numbers in her carefully chosen programme included Liszt's "Love, Thou Art Like a Blossom," a Scotch group (by request), Quilter's quiet-sung "Dream Valley" and Beethoven's beautiful "Music When Soft Voices Die." Several much-appreciated encores were given.

Miss Dorothy Morton, on numerous occasions recently acclaimed as one of Victoria's most gifted young pianists, last evening appeared in circumstances which gave her talent better opportunities for display than is often the case. Her two groups contained enough variety of composition to disclose a facile flexible execution as well as splendidly ample technique in other respects. Her work is delightfully clean, with finesse in phrasing, pedalling and tempo, and she approaches her subjects with a confidence which can only have its origin in a sound knowledge of the work in hand. There was never any blundering or blurring, and the most difficult runs and arpeggios were executed with brilliance. Scarlatti's Pastorale Capriccio, a brilliant thing; the solid classicism of Rheinberger's Paganini G Minor; Liszt's colorful "Nightingale," an interesting and unfamiliar "Pickwick Group" (by Ed. Nemen) abounding in humor and fun, and a massive chorale Rachmaninoff "Polichinelle" constituted her part of the programme. She, too, was called upon to give encores.

REV. HITCHCOX TO LEAVE ST. MARK'S

Will Succeed Rev. S. Ryall at St. Paul's, Nanaimo; Rev. R. A. Ramsey to Come Here

Rev. H. V. Hitchcox, vicar of St. Mark's parish, Victoria, has been appointed rector of Nanaimo, succeeding Rev. S. Ryall, B.A., who is to be rector of St. Luke's parish, Cedar Hill.

Rev. H. V. Hitchcox was ordained in 1909 in the diocese of Qu'Appelle, after receiving his theological training at St. Chad's College, Regina. From 1909 to 1914, Mr. Hitchcox was located at Cupar, Saskatchewan, and then came to this diocese as vicar of French Creek, with Parksville, where he served from 1914 to 1920. For the last seven years, Mr. Hitchcox has been vicar of St. Mark's parish, Victoria.

The new rector of Cedar Hill, Rev. S. Ryall, B.A., graduated from St. John's College, Winnipeg, in 1888. Ordained deacon in the same year and priest in 1890, Mr. Ryall served successively at Brandon, Oak Lake, Calgary and Chelmsford, before being appointed rector of Nanaimo in 1918.

Another change in clerical positions in the diocese is announced by the appointment to the staff of Christ Church Cathedral of the Rev. F. A. Ramsey, L.S.T., present vicar of Alberni, with Port Alberni. Mr. Ramsey received his degree in theology from the University of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, P.Q., in 1923. After leaving college, Mr. Ramsey ministered in Kootenay diocese from 1923 to 1926 as vicar of Upper Arrow Lake. He has spent nearly two years in charge of Anglican church work in the district of Alberni, and is expected to move to Victoria early in January to take up work as assistant priest under the Dean of Columbia.

Alleged Confession

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—A six-foot youth, who said he was sixteen years old and had broken jail at Regina, Sask., gave himself up to the Minneapolis police today. At his request he was locked up pending investigation.

"I robbed a jewelry store and was sentenced to ten months in jail," he said. "I got tired of the food, so I broke out, but I want to go back, finish my term and start straight."

Regina police were notified.

"Lord Nelson" Being Built at Halifax

Upper—Two scenes in the Public Gardens, where the new hotel is to be located. Lower—As the "Lord Nelson" will appear when completed.

WIDE interest has been created by the recent announcement that Halifax is to be provided with one of the finest hotels in the Dominion. The project met with instant approval and financial backing, those materially interested realizing the city's need for such an institution in view of Nova Scotia's historic, scenic and recreational advantages.

That the new "Lord Nelson Hotel," as it will be known, is solidly supported on a business basis, as well as on grounds of civic pride, is shown by the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway has secured over a half interest in the project, which company's hotels are notable among the leading chains. This company will direct to a large extent the management of the hotel.

According to E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific, the present conditions in Halifax and the Province of Nova Scotia, in every way justify the building of the "Lord Nelson."

The new hotel will be in keeping with the historical charm of Nova Scotia, the name itself recalling an epic of British history. The building, from an architectural standpoint, will be carried out in Georgian style, the type of architecture prevalent in Lord Nelson's time.

Trafalgar Day, October 21, saw the first sod in its construction turned and work begun on a building that will be in keeping with the importance of Nova Scotia's capital.

The location of the "Lord Nelson" is one of the outstanding features of the new venture. It directly fronts the famous Public Gardens, the pride of the residents of Halifax. These gardens cover many acres and are located in the heart of the city at the corner of Spring Garden Road and South Park Street. Around the paradise of flowers, radiates the North West Arm with the celebrated Waquoit Club.

Point Pleasant Park, the station, harbor and business district of the city.

The Province of Nova Scotia has gained a wide reputation for scenic and historic attraction. Some idea of the increase in tourist traffic into this province is gathered from government reports that visitors last Summer by rail and water increased 50 per cent over the Summer season of 1926. Residents of Halifax feel that such an institution as the "Lord Nelson," which will be opened in less than a year, will give further impetus to commercial and tourist traffic through this centre.

CASE OF ARTHURS AGAIN SET OVER

Audit of the Accused's Books Is Not Yet Completed—W. H. Vinal Faces Charge in Court

F. L. Arthurs, an employee of the Provincial Government, who last week pleaded guilty to stealing $376 of departmental moneys which he had in his charge, appeared on remand in the city police court yesterday before Magistrate George Jay.

The case had been stood over for one week to permit an audit of the accused's books. City Prosecutor Harrison told the court that the audit had not yet been completed, nor would it likely be for a few more days. He suggested that a further adjournment of one week be made.

Mr. P. R. Leighton, counsel for Arthurs, who is out on bail, which was granted by the court, His Honor then remanded the case until Friday, December 2.

W. H. Vinal was arraigned on a charge of obtaining $600 from Arthur Francis Saunders, by false pretences. Mr. Frank Higgins, K.C., appeared for the accused, and secured a remand for one week. Bail was fixed at $1,000, in two sureties of $500 each.

John R. Davies pleaded guilty, through counsel, Mr. Harold A. Beckwith, to driving an automobile to the common danger on Pandora Avenue, and was fined $10. G. Schwabe and C. W. McInnes each paid the court $5 for having no rear lights burning on their motor cars.

emeralds are much better emphasized if you wear them with white.

These robes-bijou—as the French call them—are sometimes of black, but the black frock is better suited to show the beauties of pearls and diamonds than the colored stones.

If you have precious stones of course you are wearing them—that is, if you can have them reset in the substantial settings that fashion now demands. The insignificant little chains and brooches that used to be worn are no longer smart.

Jewelry must be large enough nowadays to be seen from a distance.

Much has been said about the passing of imitation bijouterie. The tendency may be in that direction—especially so far as the case is concerned. But good-looking imitation colored jewelry is still worn and most effectively.

Evening jewelry sets now include a pair of slipper rings. Rings are used but sparingly, bracelets abundantly. And almost always there is a necklace or chain of some sort. A brooch on one shoulder and a brooch on the other, the shoulder strap and brooch is effective on the simply constructed frock.

What of earrings? They are very much worn, certainly, and word has just come from Paris that earrings are becoming smaller or at least shorter. The reason for this is that ears are being shown more freely than has recently been the case. Women who have permitted their hair to grow again wear it drawn back so that only the top of the ear is covered and the new bob is just short over the ears—that is, if you have good-looking ears.

A little bright green apron with trimming and patch pockets of red and green print. You can tell at a glance that it came from Paris. Yet if you follow the diagram and directions, you have made for you a make one just like it. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope. Prior was thanked for making the wreath, which was placed on the memorial.

Plans were made for the distribution of the usual Christmas hampers. Mrs. G. R. Chisholm presided over the distribution. Chapter secretaries are requested to telephone the names of volunteer workers to her at 7725-L. An executive meeting will be held on December 20.

Before the business commenced, the meeting passed a silent tribute of sympathy to Their Majesties the King and Queen in the death of the Marquis of Cambridge, and to Mrs. A. R. Cook, Mrs. Chisholm and Mrs. Miles in their recent bereavements.

What did you think of Mary's getup at the dance? "I never knew she felt down."

Women's Clubs and Societies

Cobble Hill W. A. Tea

St. John's, Cobble Hill, branch of the W.A. held a most successful silver tea at the Community Hall on Thursday afternoon. A large number attended. A pretty work stall was in charge of Mrs. H. P. Tucker and Mrs. Lockwood, and a candy stall in charge of Mrs. C. Ware and Miss Newton. During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Grainger played a most amusing scene from "The School for Scandal," followed by a delightful song by Mrs. Aldorf and a splendid recitation by Mrs. F. T. Oldham. Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Hughes were busy with raffles, while Mrs. Dr. McPherson and Mrs. Harry Kayll were in charge of the tea stall. Mr. Grainger auctioned off the remaining cakes. The annual meeting of the W.A. is to be held Thursday, December 1 at the Community Hall, Cobble Hill.

Review Banquet

The annual banquet of Queen Alexandra Review, No. 11, W.B.A., will be held on Monday at 7 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce dining-room. It is hoped that any W.B.A. members visiting the city will take advantage of this opportunity of meeting members. The president, Mrs. Schmelz, phone 2804, past president, Mrs. Todd, phone 4842R, and vice-president, Mrs. Crocker, phone 5844, will give any information regarding the banquet.

Island Women Are Active in all Institute Plans

ROYAL OAK

The fortnightly card party under the auspices of the Royal Oak Women's Institute, held on Wednesday evening at Mrs. Nicholson's, was fairly well attended and was a very pleasant affair, with Mrs. D. Greaves as hostess. The prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies, first, Mrs. H. Hubert Milnes; second, Mrs. F. Caries; third, Mrs. J. Wilkinson; men's first, Mr. F. Caries; second, Mrs. W. E. Hall (playing as a gentleman); third, Mr. C. Campbell. The next card party will be on Wednesday evening, December 7, when Mrs. F. Caries will be hostess.

Bazaar to Be Held

The Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, will hold a bazaar this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. S. Terry, 1220 St. James Street, Oak Bay.

Among other attractions there will be a guessing contest with twenty-four prizes, conducted by Miss Wilson, a home-made Christmas cake raffish and a fancywork stall presided over by Mrs. Carter and Miss Mabel Allan.

Mrs. Stapledon will serve tea between the hours of 3 and 6, while several musical numbers will be rendered. Besides money for various Christmas charities, it is the object of the post to raise sufficient funds for the furnishing of a room in the new V.W.C.A. building, also for the renovation of the old Craigflower School, which is to be preserved as an historical landmark.

Cathedral W.A. Sale

The united W.A. sale of work for Christ Church Cathedral, held on Wednesday was a great success. The room looked pretty with the booths decked in dainty colors, making a charming setting for the large number of attractive articles for sale.

The tea tables, with their lovely flowers, were particularly attractive and drew a large crowd of customers. Mr. Merritt gave two addresses, illustrated by lantern slides, showing the work being done in the mission fields at home and abroad. Children were admitted free. Receipts of the sale were over $600.

University Women

The University Women's Club held its monthly meeting on Thursday at the home of Miss Owen Gillis, Linden Avenue, with about thirty present.

After a short business meeting, Dr. E. B. Paul gave a talk on his reminiscences of old Japan. To illustrate Japanese loyalty and their inclination to do their duty rather than to demand their rights, Dr. Paul traced the history of Japan from about 660 to 1868, particularly laying stress on the feudal system and the Shoguns. This was followed by a discussion of Japanese art, the names of volunteer workers to her at 7725-L. An executive meeting will be held on December 20.

Before the business commenced, the meeting passed a silent tribute of sympathy to Their Majesties the King and Queen in the death of the Marquis of Cambridge, and to Mrs. A. R. Cook, Mrs. Chisholm and Mrs. Miles in their recent bereavements.

DOMINION The average girl of today, despite her boasted athletic prowess, can't ride a bicycle. This was the theme of the new picture, "The Fair Co-Ed," showing today at the Dominion Theatre. About one girl out of a hundred was proficient on the bicycle, the very vehicle on which her mother and dad were probably experts during their courtship days. An unusual and mercurial musical offering is presented this week on the stage in "The Four Playmates," who are gifted with good voices and the art of putting their various numbers over to the entire satisfaction of their audiences. They are recalled many times before being allowed to retire. Their harmonious singing is unique and pleasing and their comedy is highly refreshing.

COLUMBIA "Arizona Nights," showing today at the Columbia Theatre. It is one of these real Westerns. Fred Thompson, and his great horse, Silver King, are going to give the boys, young and old, a glimpse of real Western frontier life, truly authentic in every detail, and as thrilling as any exploit ever shown on the stage. "Arizona Nights" Fred Thompson gives the greatest performance of a real Western that has left Hollywood in many a long year.

PLAYHOUSE "See You in Jail," showing today at the Playhouse Theatre. It can be recommended for its entertainment value and for the perfection of the production as well as the superior acting of the cast. Here is no great problem, no tremendous theme, but a human story with comedy that is spontaneous and convincing. A motion picture "world's series" was played to pass the weary hours while the First National Company was filming "The Sunset Derby," also at the Playhouse, waiting for the celebrated California sunshine to put in an appearance. To make exterior scenes for the picture the company journeyed from a studio to a nearby city where a race track was to be had.

COLISEUM The show at the Coliseum this week is one that should not be missed by anyone. The new Ray Bell Stock Company, in their second week, are presenting "The Balloon Girl," a comedy drama of rural and circus life. The story is written around a unrelenting parachute jumper that unintentionally lands into a minister's home, and the comic situations that arise from then on, are a real scream. "The Balloon Girl" is a script that was especially picked for the fact that it gives everyone in the cast a chance to stand out at different times during the three act comedy and give the very best that is in them, and this they surely do. On the screen is Duane Thompson starring in "April Fool."

CAPITOL The securing of "proprietor" was one of the many difficult tasks that beset Director Irvin Willat during the making of "Back to God's Country." The Universal feature starring Renee Adore, showing today at the Capitol Theatre. One of the many necessary "prop" requirements consisted of three Northern bob-sleds such as are used in lumber camps. Irvin Willat might just as well have asked for a feathered whale, for after considerable skrimishing around it was found there were no such vehicles in Southern California. There will be extra stage presentations today to accommodate the large Saturday crowds which will be expected, considering the crowds that have already attended the Capitol Theatre this week to see this great bill. The vaudeville turns off the Gibson Sisters, a novelty comedy dance team, and the Georgian Singers and Players, in a superb musical presentation. These attractions will appear three times today at 4, 7 and 9 p.m.

Raoul Walsh at Director Career Top With War Comedy

From playing John Wilkes Booth in the first great film spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," to directing "What Price Glory" coming to the Dominion Theatre Monday next, Raoul Walsh boasts a colorful screen career. Apparently, acting as a professional did not interest him, for immediately after appearing in the Griffith film, he dropped his histrionics for the megaphone, and has been directing ever since. "Evangeline" was one of his films, and so was "Kindred of the Dust," but what really first brought him to public notice was "The Honor System," a Fox picture concerning some of the evils of the prison system. He also had the honor of producing one of the first screen versions of "Carmen," with the tempestuous Geraldine Farrar in the title role.

Douglas Fairbanks had been watching his work, it seems, and suddenly Walsh found himself in command of "shooting" operations on "The Thief of Bagdad," a film that brought the director more fame than he had ever yet attained.

Madge—Was that your intended I saw you out motoring with?

Merle—Yes, but he hasn't caught on yet.

LOCAL ARTIST SHOWS VIEWS

Exhibition of Works by A. M. D. Fairbairn Now at Crystal Garden Gallery

It was over the back fence that we met the Mac Byrnes.

It's a great social institution, a back fence. You can talk over it—real talk, I mean.

Mac Byrnes' card of introduction was a gunny sack half filled with bulbs and cuttings and rootlets from his own garden.

"I was just thinking," he said, as he lifted the sack over the fence, that you might like some of these. We've got more than we need; bulbs are worn-out rabbits when it comes to multiplying."

Mac Byrnes is a tall, raw-boned Scotchman with a delightful burr to his accent. A lean, outdoor sort of a chap. You know, before he told you, that he would spend every leisure moment in his garden or on the golf course.

But with Jim he talked—of all things in the world over a back fence—the international debt situation.

Old Jim knows nothing about credit—excepting that he himself is in debt over his ears—but he's a great talker so they hit it off fine.

I don't know how Mrs. Mac Byrnes and I ever did start to talk. But before either of us knew it, we were gabbling away just like old neighbors. While she was telling me about her herb garden I had a chance to get a good look at her.

She isn't what you would call a pretty woman nor a handsome one. But there's something about her that gives an illusion of beauty. She's good to look at.

Her hair, I noted, is fine and straight and excepting when the sun is shining on it a sort of straw color. But let the sun strike it and it becomes a sleek, dull gold cap.

She wears it smooth—as a straight hair should be worn—in a tailored bob.

You analyze Mrs. Mac Byrnes' features a long time before you realize that their charm and their distinction lie in their expression rather than in their form.

What shall I call that expression? Serenity? Yes, that's it—serenity. You see it first in her wide grey eyes, so fearless and undisturbed.

And then you see it hovering about her mouth. It's a generous mouth, a bit too large for beauty, but you think, as you study her, that she has bitten off a big chunk of life, like its taste and intends to bite off some more.

The time I had been watching her she had been talking about her herb garden.

Listening indifferently, I had caught but a few words. All at once I remembered Romano's beef stew. I told her about it.

"Um m m. Sounds good. I'll try that," she exclaimed.

"You see, Mrs. Mac Byrnes, before I married I was a business woman. . . oh yes, indeed; mercantile advertising. . . And in business we have efficiency drummed into us every step of the way."

"Well," I continued, "I always said that if I should ever marry my home should be run efficiently. That's why I buy canned peas, for instance, instead of wasting my time shelling them. But you just ought to hear Jim roar about canned peas."

"Perhaps it's because the fresh ones have more flavor."

"That's just what he says!"

She looked over at him where he was leaning across the fence listening so intently to her husband.

"He's a big man, your Jim, and you know big men usually like good cats."

"Good cats?" I cried. "Why I give him the very best of everything. You just ought to see the expensive New York cuts, the fillet steaks that I give him. And I also—too—the kind, you know, that has two parts instead of one. . . In fact, my meat bill is terribly high."

"My dear," she said, "when you have been married as long as I have you will learn to give a man not only what he wants but what he ought to have."

"How long have you been married?"

"Seven years next month."

"Perhaps in seven years Jim will eat anything and be glad of it," I said. "But in four months you can't do much with a man who's spoiled to death by his mother."

"Most men have been. It takes a patient wife to overlook the sins of a too-indulgent mother."

Talk about hitting the nail on the head! Wasn't that the cause of all the trouble that Jim and I had been having? He had been spoiled to death by his mother and I, his wife, was suffering for it.

Take those awful socks for instance—to say nothing of his lord-and-lady attitude towards my career. Could anyone but a mother have given him the idea that a hole in a man's sock was a national calamity?

What home training explained, too, why he kicked about my using so much canned stuff, why he shoved the delicatessen salads clear across the room if they were mixed with string-beans.

One look at Mother Jim's poor work-worn little hands and you would see that she never bought canned peas; that she never bought delicatessen salad. Certainly not. She would think it a wife's duty to stain her nails green with pea pods and to stain her fingers with potato peelings.

Dutiful! What a quaint, old-fashioned word for a whip. . . Well, I think my stars that I have been a business woman and understand the meaning of system and efficiency. And if they work in business why not in marriage? Hereafter I shall apply them to our marriage and see if it will not put an end to this quarrelling over such trivial matters as a hole in a sock.

Come to think of it, quarrelling is a fearful waste of time and energy. So—no more quarrels. If Jim wants to wrangle he can wrangle by himself; I shall leave the house and go for a quiet walk somewhere.

Oh, gosh! Was there ever such an institution as marriage anyhow! Why can't the preacher, when he marries a couple, give them a few set rules to go by. Like office rules.

You get a job in an office and you know you have to be at work on time; that you have to do your work thoroughly; that you don't leave until quitting time.

Simple, isn't it? Why can't marriage be that simple?

That sox affair left me pretty low I can tell you. I was all ready to give in, let Jim have his way and become as Vera predicted I would, a good little housewife. Anything for peace.

Now I know that would only have made matters worse. Efficiency. That's the thing. If I am to keep Jim's love I must keep my individuality.

It was Judith West, the efficient business girl he fell in love with. Doesn't it stand to reason that Judith Overstreet, the efficient wife, should hold that love?

Dear old Jim. I feel just like a mother about to spank her favorite child. He may not like canned peas and delicatessen potato salad but they'll be good for his husbandly soul.

To eliminate London export houses through which most of the Belgian sales to India are made, a huge export syndicate, composed of leaders in many industries, has been formed in Belgium, and will direct its campaign from Bombay.

"What's become of that pretty young actress I saw last year?"

"And the young fellow who seemed to be so devoted to her?"

"He's still mooning."

MICKEY WALKER OUTPOINTS PAUL BERLENBACH

Middleweight Champ Concedes 11 Pounds But Is Easily the Best

Former Light-Heavyweight Titleholder Receives Bad Beating in Ten Savage Rounds—9,000 Pay $52,000 to Watch Gladiators

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, failed to knock out Paul Berlenbach, one-time world light-heavyweight champion, but had no trouble in winning the decision in ten savage rounds tonight. The match, fought in the Coliseum, drew 9,000, with gate receipts of $52,000.

Walker, conceding 11½ pounds in weight, gave Berlenbach a bad beating, winning every round. He floored Berlenbach in the fourth, falling on top of him when he followed through on his terrific hook to the chin.

From then on, Berlenbach was on the receiving end. Walker rarely missed left hooks to the body. His rights cracked against Paul's chin with distressing effect. Paralyzing Paul made occasional flurries, for the most part he blindly plied forward, absorbing those terrific wallop.

BERLENBACH SLOWED UP
Walker started in to give a demonstration of plain and fancy slugging in the first round by nailing Berlenbach with a vicious right and left to the head, but failing to upset him. He sunk three hard left hooks to the body just before the round ended, slowing Berlenbach up. Berlenbach kept driving his left hook to the body at close quarters. Walker dropped left hooks to the body and then shot hooks to the chin in the second round. Berlenbach gamely absorbed the punches, twice crowding Walker to the ropes and punishing him with left fists to the body. Walker was finding Berlenbach much tougher and smarter than Mike McGuire, whom he knocked out in one sensational round here last month. The pace slowed up a bit in the third round, with Walker opening up with a hard right and left to the jaw. Berlenbach then chased Mickey to the ropes, driving both fists to the head and body. Walker was again outpointing the fighting as the round ended.

SEVERELY PUNISHED
Walker boxed more cautiously in the fourth, hooking his left to body. Berlenbach refused to back up an inch, however, and after several minutes of this gameness, Walker punished Berlenbach to the ropes, flooring him with a left hook and falling down on top of him. Berlenbach was groggy when he got up.

THISTLES MEET FIVE C'S TODAY

Teams Will Battle in Province Cup Qualifying Round in Only Senior Tussle at Athletic Park

STRONG SQUADS AWAITING FRAY

In the qualifying round of the Province Cup, Saanich Thistles will battle the Five C's at Royal Athletic Park today in the only senior soccer match on the programme. The kick-off is scheduled for 2:30 p.m., with Saunders officiating.

Esquimalt has been advanced into the next round, due to their winning of the city championship last year. The winner of the Thistles, Five C's, Victoria West and Victoria City series will represent Victoria along with Esquimalt.

In the hopes of making the second round, the teams have strengthened their line-ups. Saanich Thistles will trot out Larry Kennedy at full-back. Kennedy performed last season with the Thistles, and proved to be a sturdy defender. GANDY REPLACES JIM CROWE
A change in the half-back line has been made, which will see George Gandy replacing Jim Crowe at left half. Easler, who previously functioned at full-back, will be brought up in the forward line and will play inside left. Saville, the regular inside left, is suffering with an injury, received in the last game. Johnny Munster, who has played with the Thistles for a lengthy period, has transferred to Victoria City.

Five C's will trot out Ernie Harwood at center, member of the Scottish team, on their half-back line. Harwood should prove of great assistance to the Churchmen. Hood, who played full-back, will go to centre-half. This should put added pep into the attack of the Five C's. Eden and Eric Quinlan, Groves, Sutton, and F. Viggers, will complete the first line of attack of the C's.

The teams are announced as: Saanich Thistles—Hetherington, Kennedy, Harmer, Miller, Joe Crowe, Gandy, Phillips, Cummings, Burns, Easler and Ewing.
Five C's—Thickell, White, Viggers, Rev. Shanks, Hood, Harwood, Groves, Sutton, Eric Quinlan, Eden Quinlan and F. Viggers.

Wins Carolina Golf

PINEHURST, N.C., Nov. 25.—Grabbing a safe lead on the first eighteen holes, during which he scored three strokes better than Edwin W. Scofield, of New York, who won the Carolina golf title by lifting the Carolina golf title from the defending champion, Donald Parson, of Youngstown, 3 and 2.

JOHNNY GOLDEN, who recently won the Northern New Jersey Open, is a fine example of a somewhat new idea in golf that the wife of a friend of mine recently ran counter to. She was taking a lesson from the professional of the Seaview club and found trouble in getting her left foot back on the ground after balancing her weight on the blue toe of that foot at the top of her swing. "Now, what do I do with this left foot?" she asked, holding her club poised at the top of the swing. "How do I get it back on the ground?" "Put it there right now," he told her. She did, and she played better than ever that afternoon.

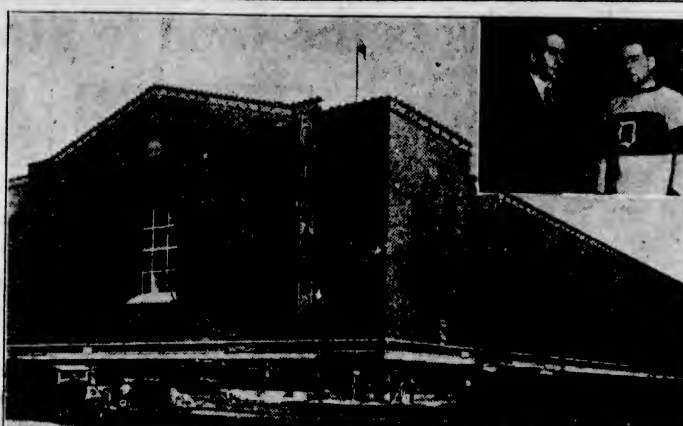

Many golfers get into a seemingly awkward predicament at the top of their swings. They worry about the left foot, poised on the inside of the big toe. The perfect solution to the perfectly timed swing is to have this foot flat down on the ground with the right, each taking half the weight, at the instant of contact. That's fine! But if Hagen or Jones or Harry Vardon or Tommy Armour or Von Elm or any of them do it, let them rise up and prove it right now.

You can, as Johnny Golden does and as Mrs. Harry Pessler does, put the left foot right back on the ground as you start your downswing, and have no great trouble at all carrying your balance. Bob Gardner, former U.S. amateur champion, made contact with the ground with his left foot somewhat later than Johnny Golden does. It is a mooted question if it meant anything. Get it down right away as you start the downswing if it worries you, and keep it there until after you hit. As a matter of fact, merely dropping it to the ground won't get the body ahead if you remember the important thing of letting the arms go through first. Tomorrow a few part words about the long driving game of Bobby Jones.

Johnny Risko Gets Decision Over Spanish Woodchopper

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—In a furious and bruising heavyweight battle, Johnny Risko, Cleveland, fought his way to the front ranks of title contenders with a clean-cut ten-round victory over Paulino Uzcudun, of Spain, at Madison Square Garden tonight. Uzcudun weighed 188, Risko 192.

For almost every minute of the struggle, a slashing, bruising combat that found both exhausted at the close, Risko, the baker boy, met the Spaniard at his own game and outslugged him. There were no knockdowns, but Uzcudun, victor over Harry Wills, Tom Groggy and reeling at the close.

Fine Boxing Card Will Be Presented Tonight

Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Has Arranged Thirteen Bouts for Interservice Tournament at Armories—Bands Will Be in Attendance

A feature of the interservice boxing championships, to be held at the Armories, Bay Street, this evening, under the auspices of the 16th Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, will be the use for the first time in Victoria of the Army and Navy rules. These differ materially from the rules to which the fans are accustomed. One point is that the count is a silent one. The timekeeper, when a man is floored, immediately starts the count inaudibly and, if the man is still down when ten is counted, declares him out. With the silent count the boxer has not the same opportunity for stalling as when the count is audible, as he cannot rest for a count of eight or nine without taking a chance of being counted out. Also, the referee controls the resumption of boxing. The boxers do not continue until he says "Box on."

Another feature of these rules concerns breaking. If the men go into a clinch, the referee calls upon them to break, and both men sit back and wait until he instructs them to resume. If they fail to break when called upon, after a preliminary warning, any boxer not breaking when told to do so, may be summarily disqualified.

SCORE ON POINTS

The scoring of points also differs. One point is given for a clean blow, but a series of light body blows may only score one point. Points are given for aggressiveness and for defense, also for ring generalship. With the exception of the light heavy and heavy matches, which go four rounds, all other contests are of three rounds—two rounds of two minutes and the last round to go three minutes. A total of twenty points is given for the three-round affairs, and thirty points for the four-round bouts.

The programme, as arranged, provides for thirteen bouts, and those who attend are expected to have a card offered which will include some excellent bouts. The contestants include members of the militia, permanent force and naval forces, including representatives of the local and mainland units.

The programme follows:
Flyweights—Pte. Neel, 11th M.G. Co. vs. Pte. Bragg, 16th Scottish.
Lightweights—Pte. Stivers, 16th Scottish, vs. Sgt. Smith, Vancouver.
Feathers—Pte. Gollitt, 16th Scottish, vs. Sgt. Young, Seaforth.

TIGERS STALK BEACH TODAY

Great Rugby Teams Will Meet at Toronto for Eastern Canada Championship

"STOP LEADLEY" IS BALMY BATTLECRY

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—Balmy Beach concluded their heavy training programme last night in preparation for the crucial struggle tomorrow with Hamilton Tigers for the Eastern Canadian football championship. Although they have lost four of their regulars, the east-enders will have a strong line-up when they face the Tigers at the University of Toronto Stadium. The weather still continues mild and damp, but shows signs of clearing, and the field should be in fairly good shape when the two teams clash.

Balmy Beach will enter the playoffs for the fourth time in as many years. They failed in all three previous attempts. Formulating plans and line plays with the purpose of smothering the effectiveness of Leadley, occupied the attention of Coach Hobbs as he drilled his squad at top speed through a lengthy workout yesterday.

"Stop Leadley" is the Beach battle cry. The Tigers also finished training at Hamilton. The latter team rule the heavy favorites to win the championship, owing to the absence of several Beach stars through injuries. The Tigers, on the other hand, are again at full strength.

C.P.S. TO MEET JORDAN RIVER

Fast Hoop Teams Will Clash at Y.M.C.A.—Three Other City League Games Scheduled

Jordan River and Canadian Puget Sound hoop squads will provide the feature attraction of tonight's basketball programme when they clash at the Y.M.C.A. at 8:15 o'clock. The leadership of men's "A" division will be at stake. The lumbermen have a fast team, and one that should give Jordan River a great battle. They have assembled a number of flashy players, including Rutledge, Murray, Greenwood, MacEachern, Fagerburg, David and Woldridge.

Jordan River's hopes will rest with such players as Forbes, Patt, Boyd, Willoughby, McKenzie and Tervo. The first game of the evening, which will get under way at 7:30 o'clock, will see the C.P.S. "B" team opposing the Sons of Canada. This should be a good struggle.

B.C. Telephone and Victoria College will meet in ladies' "A" fixture. Swords Service Station and the Hillcrest will play in the last game of the evening. The former club will be strengthened by the inclusion of Art Webster.

SOCCER REFEREES ARE WAGING WAR

Demand Four Dollars for Officiating in Province Cup Matches—Games to Be Played

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25.—Soccer matches slated for Saturday in the Province Cup competition will go on as per schedule, despite the dispute between the Referees' Association and the B.C.F.A.

The B.C.F.A. Council, at a meeting held in Nanaimo, November 12, voted to pay referees in this series $3 per game, instead of $4, the previous fee allowed. Upon hearing of this the Referees' Association at once took exception and dispatched a letter to the B.C.F.A. demanding $4 per game and insisting that they would not officiate unless their terms are met.

The B.C.F.A. council unanimously agreed, however, not to deal with the Referees' Association until the latter body withdrew its ultimatum. The latter not having been withdrawn, the B.C.F.A. has refused to deal with the referees, and they have refused to officiate tomorrow for $3.

The games, however, will go on as scheduled. According to the constitution of the D.F.A., in case of the official referee not turning up for the game, clubs or committees may select a substitute from the crowd, provided he is agreeable to both sides. This course will be followed, it was stated tonight.

Men's Monthly Medal At Uplands Tomorrow

The men's monthly medal competition in spite of his indisposition, will be held tomorrow. Full handicap will be allowed and post entries will be received. Players may select their own partners and arrange their own starting times.

BIBLICAL WINE
Sir:—I see in this morning's Colonist a letter headed "Prohibition," stating that the wine which Jesus Christ is said to have turned from water, was non-intoxicating, and the writer takes his authority from the late Dr. T. R. Lee. No doubt the latter by now has found out his mistake. If the wine of the Bible was non-alcoholic, why does David say in Prov. xxii, 7: "Give wine unto him that be of heavy heart, let him drink and forget his poverty and remember his misery no more?" I defy any teetotal drink to do this!

And these also, in Psalms, civ, 16: "And wine shall gladden the heart of man," and Eccl. x, 19: "A feast is made for laughter and wine that maketh merry." And (as I said) one can't get merry on anything but wine.

WHO CROWNED THE ARAB KING?
Sir:—From time to time one reads in the Colonist and other newspapers, propaganda looking to the laudation of one Colonel Lawrence. I do not suppose for one instant that an officer who has worn His Majesty's uniform would publicly refuse honors and rewards tendered by his sovereign. To begin with, it is bad taste and is not done. That any man should refuse, through the proper channels, a public honor is correct enough—to make refusal public savors of vanity. We are also told, through the medium of the American and Canadian newspapers, that Colonel Lawrence placed a king upon the throne of Iraq. This is not so. Colonel Lawrence had neither art nor part in the making of the Kingdom of Iraq. Colonel Lawrence never set foot in Iraq in the war-time last past.

Those handling newspaper propaganda, ostensibly on behalf of Colonel Lawrence, would have it that Lawrence refused honor and reward. Damascus and Syria after the Damascus has never belonged to Arab rulers in recent centuries.

Syria has always had a large native Christian community, having nothing at all in common with the Arabs of Mecca, Medina, or those other southern regions of Arabia exploited by Lawrence and his newspaper backers (largely American).

At a critical period of hostile Arab operations on the Iraqi frontier, that C.O.C. Euphrates Defence Force, in which capacity I commanded or directed desert columns based upon Shiba, Nasiriyah and Shinafe.

Major General Dixon, who operated mainly against adherents of Ajlami and Ibn Saud. Our intelligence (political officers) were Majors and Captains.

played a lone hand with friendly tribes far into the desert, the latter mainly concerned with riverine and trade matters, at and time, did the name of Lawrence come under notice as being responsible for Arab organization in politics or arms. I have read reports from British agents, white and native, living among the Anazie, Shammar, Dhafir and Arabs of Southern Arabia having casual mention of Lawrence as an individual important of control, albeit brave and resourceful. The newspapers tell that the one-time colonel is now a private in the Air Force, serving in India. Why this sudden change?

Surely an officer with the ability and energy of Lawrence could command in spite of his indisposition, a better job. Indeed, why serve at all under a power he professes to despise, whose rewards and honors he refuses?

I do not set up as an authority on either Arabs or Iraq. A few years' soldiering in Arabia would hardly give me much status. But I do know of matters of Arab intelligence between September, 1917, and March, 1919. I know that the frontiers of Iraq were held by British troops and Indian Arab tribesmen without one iota of assistance from Southern or South-western Arabia. The following synopsis of Arab character, all serve to show that Allenby and his veteran troops alone were responsible for the capture of Palestine, Syria and Damascus.

The average Arab has a lively imagination, and a subtle way of discussing intelligently any subject within the range of his experience. Arabs are quick to follow an argument, and can be worked up to a frenzied by vivid phrases. To the European the Arab in matters requiring ability, energy and despatch, is more or less incompetent, and always lazy. Indeed, manual labor is considered degrading by the average nomad. On the other hand, the purebred nomadic tribesmen generally have an aristocratic ideal of conduct which inclines to courtesy, dignity, hospitality and generosity.

Nomadic Arabs have a code of honor, but are often satisfied by observing the letter of its rules. Arabs, generally, are born for intrigue and think very lightly of a promise when it has not been made with solemn forms of oath. They will promise or no promise, extend a guest and risk life and property in the doing. Money is the Arab bane, and he is not very scrupulous in his efforts to obtain it. Arabs are time-servers and never loyal to a lost cause. On the other hand, they are loth to change sides until there is reason to do so safely. Arab warfare, if continued, is fairly harmless. It is very largely a matter of raids, loose skirmishes and gallop-away fights. Both sedentary and nomadic Arabs are often treacherous, and always ready to blackmail or rob a weaker neighbor. The nomadic tribesman is a guerrilla in warfare; always loth to face regular troops, save by harassing a retreat, or sudden surprise attack.

Money played a larger part in turning Arabs to the British cause than either bullets, shells or persuasion by political officers. After many rough and tumble skirmishes on the Iraqi frontier some one had a brain wave that it was cheaper to pay an Arab sheik five thousand rupees a month than to spend five millions fighting him. Always that money had to be paid in silver rupees. The Arab, whether sedentary or nomadic, literally loves the hard, new-coined rupee. I believe it is an undisputed fact that the Arabs whom Colonel Lawrence made so much of were, after all, hired guerrilla troops serving the British Government.

I admire Colonel Lawrence for the adventurous manner in which he lived and warred with and among the Arabs. I admire his writings and his desert descriptions. In short, as author and soldier-of-fortune he is a man after my own heart—but he never was or will be a soldier.

None can say that the Arabs did not get on very well indeed with Colonel Lawrence—but at the time Lawrence went to them they had already made up their minds to change sides.

The vast majority of newspaper readers have not the faintest conception as to what constitutes the Kingdom of Iraq. Iraq may be said to be a country bounded on the east by the Pusht-i-kuh hills of Persia; on the west by the River Euphrates as far as Hit upstream, and as far as Basra downstream. Iraq proper includes but very little of the Great Syrian Desert. The country north of Baghdad is known as Jesreh (THE ISLAND).

SOVIET'S ALIBI

MOSCOW, Nov. 25.—The Soviet Government "does not refuse" to resume diplomatic or trade relations with Great Britain on a basis of mutual noninterference in each other's affairs, Alexis Rykoff, president of the Council of People's Commissars, said today.

"But," added Rykoff, "it is necessary that the British Government should not place responsibility on the Soviet Government for the action of organizations for which it cannot in any way be responsible."

(The Soviet Government claims that the Third International should not be regarded as the Soviet Government acting under another name and organization.)

Rykoff made his remarks in an address at Karakhov before the Congress of the Communist Party of the Ukraine.

Soviet Attitude

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—Maxim Litvinoff, assistant commissioner of foreign affairs, en route to Geneva, where he will head the Soviet delegation to the Arms Conference, had a long conversation today with Foreign Minister Stresemann. They discussed disarmament and other questions of mutual interest, especially relations between Poland and Lithuania.

Litvinoff acquainted Dr. Stresemann with the contents of the note handed the Polish Government, in which the Soviet pointed out the danger to world peace of any Polish act against Lithuania. Both ministers agree there was need for making the greatest efforts to remove any difficulties standing in the way of a settlement.

TENPAISAN MARU TOTAL WRECK NOW

Japanese Freighter Breaking Up Fast Under Heavy Seas Near Copalis, Wash.—Hope Abandoned

CREW PAINTS OUT RINGS ON STACK

Salvage Queen Returning to Victoria After Inability to Reach Wreck—Only Ten Feet of Water

Mr. A. C. Burdick, manager of the Pacific Salvage Company, upon receipt of advice from the S. S. Salvage Queen last evening, told The Colonist that all hope had been given up to save the Japanese freighter Tenpaisan Maru, ashore on a sandy and shallow bottom near Copalis, and that as the Japanese Queen was breaking up the Salvage Queen was steaming back to Victoria, where she expects to arrive at noon today.

ABERDEEN, Nov. 25.—Hope to reach the Tenpaisan Maru was abandoned today when high tide failed to lift the freighter and seas began to break over her decks. The three white rings on the stack, emblematic of Mitsui, Ltd., owners of the ship, were painted black by the crew as a sign that all hope was gone. A new breeches buoy has been rigged. The present line from the shore is 200 feet long, within reach of the waves. The shallowness of the water makes it impossible for the United States coastguard cutter Snomohish and the S. S. Salvage Queen to get within half a mile of the vessel which is resting in about ten feet of water.

The Tenpaisan Maru was settling off as a leak on the starboard side was filling her rapidly, members of the crew informed watchers on shore. Wireless signals and police whistles were used to communicate with the ship as the batteries for the wireless have been exhausted. At low tide the vessel was about twenty-five yards from shore, but the tide came in the distance was increased to 200 yards. The ship, produced by the sixty-mile-an-hour gale, which drove the ship ashore, was rapidly moderating.

Built at Sunderland, England, in 1911 by J. L. Thompson & Sons, the Tenpaisan Maru is at present owned by Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, Limited, of Kobe. She is a vessel of 5,019 gross tons and 2,638 tons net, and has a length of 380.7 feet, breadth 53.6 feet and depth of 27.1 feet. She was proceeding in ballast to Puget Sound ports to load lumber when driven ashore on the rocky Washington coast by a gale.

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—The crew of the Japanese freighter Tenpaisan Maru, ashore at Copalis, Wash., will leave the vessel tomorrow morning, Captain John Berry, North Pacific commandant of the United States

Coastguard, was advised tonight by the cutter Snomohish, which is standing by the stricken vessel.

A breeches buoy rigged to the ship by the coastguard will be used to take the forty odd members of the crew ashore.

Efforts to float the vessel have been abandoned and the craft will likely be a total loss, Captain Berry was informed. The boat is believed to have been turned over to her underwriters.

WARD LINER HITS VERA CRUZ SHOAL

Passengers of S. S. Mexico Are Landed Following Vessel's Grounding Near Harbor

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 25.—All passengers aboard the Ward liner Mexico, aground three miles off Vera Cruz, have been removed, says a telegram from that port to the headquarters of the Mexican Railways. The vessel was still believed in danger. An earlier telegram said that a strong north wind made her position precarious.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Ward liner Mexico, which struck a shoal a mile and a half from the harbor entrance at Vera Cruz, Mexico, early today, was clear and headed for the harbor under her own power, Ward Line officials told the Associated Press.

Radio advices from Captain McTear, master of the vessel, said that the Mexico, out of New York for Tampico, grounded on a reef, slightly damaging her bow, but was delayed only a short time.

SPEEDY AIRSHIP BEING DESIGNED

British Craft of 4200 Horsepower Expected to Cross Atlantic in Forty-Eight Hours

HOWDEN, Yorkshire, Eng., Nov. 25.—Designs are being worked out for an airship which will cross the Atlantic between London and New York in forty-eight hours, says a telegram from that port to the headquarters of the British Airship Guarantee Company, announced today. His announcement was made after he had shown newspapermen the airship R-100 now being constructed by the British Airship Guarantee Company, which is being designed to be as far in advance of the obsolete R-33, he said.

The R-100 is being built at a cost of about $2,300,000. Its total displacement will be 155 tons. It is fitted with six Rolls-Royce engines of seven hundred horsepower each. The ship will develop a top speed of more than eighty miles an hour and a cruising speed of seventy miles. The cruising range will be more than 5,000 miles. The dirigible will carry thirty tons of fuel.

ORANGES ARE DUE ON NOVEMBER 29

Of the 206 carloads, about 200 cases of the delectable product of the Far East will be unloaded here, the majority going to Port Main via the Canadian National Railway. The remainder, and from there to the Prairies.

The S. S. President Grant, which was to have brought thirty-five carloads of oranges here on the December 12, but will bring a much smaller shipment than was originally intended.

FLOATING THEATRE REPORTED SINKING

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 25.—The cutter Garabasset and two coast-guard patrol boats were dispatched today to the aid of the John Adams floating theatre, said to be from Philadelphia, which was reported in a sinking condition off Thimble Shoals light. The vessel is directly in the path of navigation and, if true, nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

SKIPPER TELLS THRILLING YARN

CAPTAIN OF ABANDONED SHIP DESCRIBES ADVENTURE AT SEA LACONICALLY

Crew Battle Eight Days in Small Boat Before Reaching Land—Three Are Lost

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 25.—Captain Martin Hansen of New York, came in from the sea recently, obtained lodgings for six surviving members of his crew of nine and telegraphed the shipping agent, Pendleton Brothers, New York, what had happened since the three-masted schooner Virginia Pendleton sailed from Turk's Island on October 27, for Boston.

"Schooner abandoned, crew safe except three, awaiting orders," was his laconic message, behind which was a story of tragedy and a desperate battle for life.

"We left Turk's Island with a load of bulk sail," Captain Hansen began in narrating the adventure. "We had been aground in port and the bottom must have strained, as the schooner started to leak before we had been out long. The water gained on us, and after five days the ship listed at an angle of sixty degrees."

"The schooner threatened to capsize at any time, so I decided to abandon her. We had ten aboard and two boats, a twenty-four-footer and a sixteen-footer. There was a heavy sea running and the wind was almost a gale. This was about 2 a.m., November 1."

"We managed to get the twenty-four-footer off the stern. It was at the end of a long line and I put two men aboard to keep it taut. Then we sat tight and waited for daylight to see what we were doing."

"At dawn the gale had moderated, so a line was run between the schooner and the boat. On this line the smaller boat was run as a ferry, taking one man at a time to the twenty-four-footer. A small keg of water and some food were put aboard each boat, and then we cast loose with seven men in the large boat and three in the smaller."

"The Virginia Pendleton must be at the bottom of the sea now, when we went I do not know, but when we saw her last she was listing so badly that it seemed that every hull must have been her last before she capsized."

"Enormous seas were on all sides of us and the wind seemed to freshen so it was necessary to keep two men bailing the time in each boat. The large boat was fitted with a sail, so we towed the other. We were then 120 miles north of Abaco, so we headed south with one chance in 200 of reaching the island."

"For three days we pitched about on the angry sea and saw nothing but waves and sky. The sun beat down without mercy and we were badly sunburned."

"At dusk on November 3, we passed within four miles of two steamers. We made a lot of shouts and signals, but they were too far away to see. The signal I am positive that the flames must have been seen, but neither steamer aided us."

"About an hour later the wind which had been quiet for a time became a gale again. The waves tossed us about like two corks. The line snapped. In the 'm light we could see at the white side of the small boat as it was capsized. It then came the agonized cries of the three men in the water."

"We ran down the sail and struggled to bring our boat into the wind and to the spot where the small boat tossed about, but we were unable to reach it, the wind and waves driving us further and further away. We tried for more than an hour, the men praying, praying and perspiring as they tried their hardest."

"After the first cries we heard nothing but the howling of the wind and the seething of water as the tops of the great waves broke about us. We knew it was useless to try more, so I ordered the sail up and we resumed our course."

"Those who drowned were our Canadian engineer, John Power; W. Sundstrum, the Finnish boatswain, and George Stanley, a negro sailor from the British West Indies."

"For three more days we were buffeted about. When we started we had some canned goods, bacon, ship biscuits and a small keg of water. The water gave out on the sixth day. After that I had to watch the men, especially the negroes, to keep them from drinking the sea water. As it was they drank a little, but none went mad."

"The day after the water was gone we ate the last of the canned goods, leaving us only the sea-cooked biscuits and the bacon. Both contained so much salt we ate practically none of them."

"At daylight the next day, the seventh after we abandoned the schooner, we sighted two steamers. We tried to signal them, and although they were less than four miles off, neither drew near us. I think they believed that we were run-runners looking for a steamer to make contact."

"The following day we sighted another steamer, but they were too far away to reach. We took passage from that island to Nassau and then to Miami."

"The surviving members of the crew, besides the captain, are James Summers, first mate; C. J. Vandervoort, cook, and four negro sailors. The Virginia Pendleton was 222 feet long, with a net tonnage of 1,388. She was built in 1919."

SEINE BOAT TRAPP IS SAFE AT NOOTKA

Gosse Packing Company Vessel Weathered Recent West Coast Storm in an Inlet

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25.—The seine boat Trapp, of Vancouver, feared lost last week-end off Gloucester, Vancouver Island, is safe in Nootka Sound, according to a telegram this morning to the owners here, the Gosse Packing Company, Ltd. She arrived in the Sound last evening.

The vessel cleared from Port Renfrew on November 18, en route from Vancouver to Heales Channel, and anxiety was felt when no word was heard of her. On her arrival at Nootka Sound yesterday, Captain Levi reported that he had been stormbound in the Sound, and was unable to dispatch a wire giving information as to her whereabouts.

EX-PRINCESS AT 48 WEDS POLICE OFFICER

OLDENBURG, Germany, Nov. 25.—A second "romance" in the family of the former Kaiser within the past few days was brought to a happy conclusion yesterday by the marriage of the Duchess Sophie Charlotte to Captain Harald von Hedemann. The Duchess was once the Kaiser's daughter-in-law but was divorced from his son, Prince Eitel Frederick, last year.

The bride is forty-eight years old and the bridegroom forty.

PREMIER BALDWIN VIOLATES CUSTOM

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Premier Baldwin unconsciously violated a rule of Parliament Wednesday night when the lights went out by appearing in the inner lobby puffing his pipe. It is a breach of the rules to smoke in the lobbies, unless the House has adjourned, and on this occasion the House had just suspended. Other members observed Mr. Baldwin's lapse and gave him a cheer, but he appeared not to grasp the significance on the demonstration. He kept on smoking.

ALIEN FISHERS OBJECTED TO

British Columbia Fishermen's Protective Association to Meet Dominion Superintendent Today

WANT TRAPS AND SEINES ABOLISHED

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 25.—Three points of major importance will be placed before W. A. Found, Dominion superintendent of fisheries, when he meets a delegation of fishermen Saturday night. Upon receipt of a communication from the Dominion superintendent of fisheries, announcing the willingness of the superintendent to meet fishermen's representatives, the executive of the British Columbia Fishermen's Protective Association fixed the date and place of meeting.

In addition to Mr. Found it is expected Messrs. J. A. Motherwell and A. F. Halliday, district inspectors, will be present.

The exclusion from fishing of all but British subjects will be the first point which the association will strongly urge the Dominion Government, through its representative, to question.

The question, it is stated, is one that has long been a bone of contention with these fishermen who have been in the country for many years and who have regarded the increase in their ranks by men of foreign extraction.

Fishermen will further ask for the elimination of the bridge barrier in No. 1 District. It is contended the variation of hours set for closed seasons on the Fraser river is unfair to the fishermen, and it is also calculated to cause confusion.

At the present time different hours prevail for closed periods above and below the Fraser River Bridge, and the men ask that the whole of the river, to Mission, be placed upon the same footing.

Complete abolition of traps and seines throughout the fishing areas in the province is the third reform the association will urge. In this connection the men say an increase of more than 400 per cent has taken place within the last fifteen years, and declare the present unfavorable position in the salmon runs is due in a large measure to this type of fishing.

Matters to be generally discussed will be the appointment of a commission to investigate the fisheries, and plans for conservation.

ANNIVERSARY IS WELL CELEBRATED

Nanaimo Branch of Odd Fellows Installed Forty-Two Years Ago—Original Officer Survives

NANAIMO, Nov. 25.—Last night in the I.O.O.F. Hall, the Colwood chapter, No. 4, I.O.O.F., held its forty-second anniversary. The branch of the order was installed on November 18, 1885. The first officers were: G. P. E. Quennell, J. Crossan, W. Bone, A. McGregor, H. McAdie and J. Price. This branch of the order has had its ups and downs, but is still going strong. A large number of Odd Fellows and Sister Rebekahs turned out to help celebrate the occasion. After the regular lodge session a very pleasing programme was rendered, all artists being in splendid voice and ably accompanied by Bro. W. Phillips and Sister Smith. The programme was as follows: Piano solo, Phillips; song, Mrs. Muir; community song, Bro. J. Smith; song, Sister Derbyshire; duet, Mrs. Muir and Bro. Smith. Refreshments followed, and all present expressed satisfaction at the evening's entertainment. The whist drive winners were as follows: Gentlemen, first, Mr. McGuckie; second, Matt Seur; third, H. Thorneycroft; ladies, Mrs. Welch; second, Mrs. Carnely; third, Mrs. Nelson.

Deep Cove District and Its Development

A Review of Sales, Improvements and Buildings Reported in This Popular Neighborhood During the Current Year

By a Contributor

A review of sales reported at Deep Cove and district for 1927, include the following: The Richard of Mr. G. S. Salmon, of the School Crossroad, has been sold to a Mr. Bull, from Sackatchewan, who will take possession at the end of the month, when Mr. Salmon and family will move to Victoria.

Mr. Bull also purchased the Melior Cottage on the waterfront, Birch subdivision, where he has been residing for the past few months.

There has just been completed, on Madrona Drive, near the Birch subdivision, a fine residence for Mrs. Brown, of Victoria. Mr. Richard North was the contractor for the building.

Mr. John L. Gato, of Vancouver, has purchased a piece of property on Madrona Drive, looking west over the Saanich Inlet. A well has already been bored, and plans are being made for a fine stucco building of seven rooms.

Mr. Davis, of Pemberton & Son, has just built for himself a nice little summer cottage on a point overlooking Deep Bay. The house is hidden away among the tall timbers, but has a wonderful view of the sunsets over Cowichan Bay.

The property owned by the late Mr. W. Jackson, in the Birch subdivision, and looking into Deep Bay, has lately been acquired by Miss McKie. Several lots have been added to the original holdings, a deep well bored, and alterations and extensions made to the house. Mr. Jackson had two lots on the Birch Road, where he intends to build his permanent home as soon as he has disposed of his McClure and family, of Victoria, are again spending their vacations at the Cove in a snug, new, little cottage on the waterfront, near the Birch subdivision, and looking into Deep Bay.

Mr. J. H. Constable has added to his property by acquiring the block below him from Mr. Mitchell. His property faces on the Downey Road and overlooks Drake Bay.

Hunters Pick Up Wing of Aeroplane On Northern Cruise

On Northern Cruise

COURTENAY, Nov. 25.—Returning yesterday from a two-weeks' hunting trip to Knight's Inlet, a party of local sportsmen report the finding of an aeroplane wing, silvered on one side and yellow on the other, and about sixteen feet long. It was picked up while they were cruising in Blind Channel off Rock Bay, and presents a puzzle as to where it could have come from.

The party, consisting of Messrs. L. F. Cliffe, J. Sutton, Ted Cliffe, A. Brackett, and Wm. Hall, secured good bags of both ducks and geese, and also deer. They covered a distance of nearly 400 miles in their boat and ran into some nasty weather.

On the west of the Chalea Road, facing the sea, is a charming stucco bungalow, owned by Mr. Henry North. The house is modern in every respect, and was built by his brother, the contractor, Mr. R. North.

On the south corner of the Birch Road is situated the residence of Mr. J. H. Constable. He has greatly improved his property by the addition of more land.

This property owned by Mr. Frank North, on Madrona Drive, near the Birch subdivision, has been purchased by Miss McKie. Several lots have been added to the original holdings, a deep well bored, and alterations and extensions made to the house.

Mr. J. H. Constable has added to his property by acquiring the block below him from Mr. Mitchell. His property faces on the Downey Road and overlooks Drake Bay.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, November 27:

Sunday—Breakfast: French omelet made of the whites of eggs in milk, stewed figs, Melba toast. Lunch: Buttered macaroni, cooked spinach, raw celery. Dinner: Jelly tomato consommé, broiled chicken, string beans, baked egg plant, cauliflower salad, ice cream.

Monday—Breakfast: Coddled egg, two or three slices of crisp bacon, stewed prunes, Melba toast. Lunch: Eight-ounce glass of grape juice. Dinner: Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, spinach, turnips and tops, salad of sliced tomatoes with celery, gelatinized milk with whipped cream and prune juice.

Tuesday—Breakfast: Cottage cheese, Melba toast, applesauce. Lunch: Baked ground beefs, combination salad of celery, tomatoes and small peas or lettuce. Dinner: Mushroom soup, roast mutton, steamed carrots with parsley, salad of cold asparagus (canned), baked apple.

Wednesday—Breakfast: Baked egg, Melba toast, stewed raisins. Lunch: Orange as desired. Dinner: Broiled lamb chops, string beans, cooked celery, McCoy salad, pineapple gelatin (shredded pineapple in gelatin).

Thursday—Breakfast: Coddled egg, Melba toast, stewed apricots. Dinner: Ripe olives, salted roasted nuts, roasted turkey or chicken, Melba toast, dressing, baked egg plant, mashed carrots and turnips, prune whip. Supper: Cold roasted turkey or chicken, combination salad of celery, tomatoes, cucumbers and chopped cabbage.

Friday—Breakfast: Reconstituted breakfast food with cream (no sugar), ripe or stewed figs. Lunch: Raw apples as desired. Dinner: Clear vegetable broth made of celery and tomatoes, baked white fish, spinach, salad of sliced tomatoes and celery, no dessert.

Saturday—Breakfast: French omelette, Melba toast, stewed raisins. Lunch: Sandwiches made of real wholewheat bread with lettuce and peanut butter, raw carrot salad. Dinner: American cheese, cooked cucumbers, asparagus, combination salad of tomatoes, cucumbers and celery on lettuce, pineapple sponge. "Cauliflower Salad"—Separate the tender flowers of a head of cauliflower and arrange on a nest of shredded lettuce and endive. Over all pour a dressing made of peanut butter thinned with a little milk, when ready to serve. If you have never eaten raw cauliflower, you will be surprised at its pleasing, nutlike flavor.

MIGRANTS AIDED DRIFT TO CITIES

MR. FORKE SAYS PLAN OF ASSISTED PASSAGES IS NOT WORKING OUT WELL

All Applicants Say They Will Work on Farms or as Domestic—Only One-Fourth Do So

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—Hon. Robert Forke, Federal Minister of Immigration, in addressing the local Women's Liberal Association here yesterday expressed the opinion that a little mixing of British and European blood "might be an improvement."

Mr. Forke emphasized that he was not trying to keep the British people out of Canada, and he felt that British institutions and ideals should be maintained in Canada. He thought that if Britishers who came were of the right type, they would "stamp their impression" on the life of the country. But there also was a place in Canada for the right type of European.

"I am going to keep my finger on the pulse of immigration from Southern and Central Europe," he later stated. "And if I think it is getting too great I am going to shut it off. But I have no intention of stopping immigration from these countries. They are the people who are doing work our people won't do. When you want rough work done in this Dominion today, you don't find our British people doing it."

The policy of handling foreign immigration was to have the foreigners placed so they would be assimilated. It wasn't advisable to have colonies in too solid blocks.

ASSISTED PASSAGES

In reference to the assisted passage system, applicable to farm help and domestics, Mr. Forke noted that three-quarters of the people coming out under this scheme to work on farms did not work on the farms at all.

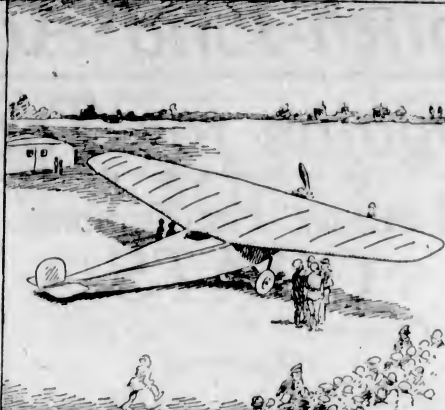

"So you can't blame the department for making restrictions tighter," he said. He pointed out that a large number of girls coming to this country as "domestics" eventually went into factories or industrial life. He did not blame the "farm help" and domestics for changing to some sphere "in which they could do better." But he emphasized they were not giving Canada a square deal when they came here under the promise to go on the farms or into domestic service, when they had no intention of doing it.

CHAMBER THANKS B.C. ELECTRIC CO.

Directors Appreciate Decision to Reduce Lighting Charges—Fisheries Control Discussed

Appreciation of the British Columbia Electric Railway's action in reducing electric light charges in Victoria and the neighboring municipalities was voiced by directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon session yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce, presided over by President C. P. W. Schwengers.

In a letter to Mr. Schwengers, Mr. A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company for Vancouver Island, said:

members of the chamber have read with interest the company's intention to abolish all meter rents and make substantial reductions in lighting rates.

"I know you and your directors appreciate certain difficulties that we have had to contend with in our local situation in Victoria and have always listened to our explanations with sympathetic attention. Now that things are getting a little better and we find ourselves able to make a reduction, it gives us much pleasure to be able to do so."

On a resolution sponsored by Mr. A. E. Todd, the directors instructed the secretary to send a suitable letter of thanks to the B.C. Electric Railway.

CONTROL OF FISHERIES

The directors were asked by the Duncan Board of Trade to petition the Federal Government to have the control of the British Columbia fisheries vested in the British Columbia Provincial Government. The question of the control of fisheries was briefly discussed, and it was decided to refer the matter to the law and legislative committee.

A motion of sympathy was extended to Mr. E. W. McMullen, one of the directors, in his recent bereavement in the death of his mother.

Mr. Fred W. Bartholomew's application for membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce was accepted.

President Schwengers welcomed to the meeting Mr. P. B. Fowler, chairman of the chamber's industrial committee, Mr. Eard, of Yarrow, and Mr. Aubrey Jones, a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

LABOR DISPUTE IN WOOLEN INDUSTRY

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Development in the English textile industry, particularly the woolen section, are following closely those reported from New England. Employers in the woolen industry have notified their workers that it is deemed impossible to restore prosperity unless wages are reduced, and therefore, the expiring wage agreement will not be renewed.

The Industrial Council has been trying to effect an amicable settlement of the difficulty, but the negotiations have been fruitless so far. The negotiations have not been broken off, however. The main stumbling block is the insistence of the employers that the wage question should be disposed of first, whereas the workers maintain that alternative methods for helping the industry are available and should receive equal consideration by the employers.
